"We are very excited to showcase a diverse group of apps," stated Rick Singer, CEO of GreatApps.com. "There are so many apps to choose from on numerous platforms. Getting an app discovered is a difficult task and hard for someone to achieve on their own. Our platform helps app developers and business owners market their app; while allowing users to discover apps they simply may not have known existed. You can have the most amazing app; however, if no one knows about it, then it's useless."
